

8TH EUROPEAN FORUM GAS 2010

Together Marcogaz - Technical Association of the European Natural Gas Industry and GERG - European Gas Research Group announce that the European Forum Gas 2010 (EFG2010) is due to take place in the United Kingdom on the 6th/7th of October.

This is a joint event which will provide views from across Europe and a comprehensive insight into the British gas sector.

This year the forum has been combined with the IGEN (Institution of Gas Engineers and Managers) and SBGI (Society of British Gas Industries). This will provide the European participants an exceptional insight into the UK gas industry and its opportunities in a European context.

The key topics for discussion are:

- Policy and Regulatory Issues
- Security of supply – Fact or Fiction?
- Downstream and demand side
- Technology, innovation and best practice

To begin the conference a 'key note dinner' will be taking place on the evening of 6th October, followed by the conference session itself on 7th October.

Interesting and notable experts will share their expertise and experiences. The finalised program will be published shortly detailing the speakers and the registration requirements.

Mark the date in your diary to make the most of the know-how transfer from leading experts in their fields and the European wide discussions.

Venue:

Sir Dennis Rooke Building, Holywell Park, Loughborough University, Loughborough, Leicestershire, LE11 3TU, United Kingdom

Further information, registrations and fees will be available on EFG 2010 website (www.efg2010.com - to be released w/c 31.05.10)
